TEXTURAL CHARM

Topstona has recently launched wall coverings that imbibe the essence and touch of the waves of the ocean, the ripples in the skies and the rugged mountain terrains. The brand develops art and luxury out of industrial materials, through the unique and remarkable balance of man and machine, the outcome of which is magnificent stone claddings that are a product of this integrative collective collaboration between designers, artisans, engineers and architects.

Enthralling textural charm on plain walls, each natural stone is sourced locally from Rajasthan and transformed into enchanting three-dimensional pieces of art that speak a global language.

STRIPE COLLECTION

Peelidori introduces a collection of home products using the stripe pattern as a medium to express their take on emotions and personality. The State Your Stripe collection is inspired by various characters and souls and how they subconsciously respond to the pattern. This collection brings to you a thoughtful selection of mugs and cushion covers, each reflecting a distinct character. Every stroke of the pattern in the products is a representation of a different personality, and with the clever use of the colours black and white, the designer signifies the balance of life between the good and the bad.

THOUGHTFUL

CREATIONS

A rustic, distressed wood picnic table creates a mesmerizing ambience when it is placed amidst nature. This is exhibited perfectly in the Lomira Solid Wood Two Seater Picnic Table by Bohemiana from Pepperfry. It is the ideal piece of furniture for those with a green thumb and love for the first blooming showers of the season. A picnic table is a largely transitional manifestation of furniture that exudes a quirky vibe when retained in your living room and allows you to bask in the glory of the sun when placed in your backyard.
